C The destruction of the City of Columbia, S. C, in February, 1865, by the United States troops under command of General Sherman was an act of barbarity which surpasses all similar acts which are to be found in the long annals of the world s warfare. Its infamy is even greater than that of the sack of Magdeburg in the Thirty Years War by the Imperialists under Tilley; for Magdeburg was taken by storm by the Imperial troops after a most desperate defence; while Columbia, entirely unfortified and undefended, its population consisting entirely of old men, women and children, was surrendered without a blow, under the promise given by the Commanding General of protection to persons and property. The following description of the destruction of Columbia was written by an eye-witness of that deplorable event, - a German gentleman of intelligence and culture. This gentleman had been residing for some years in Charleston, in the capacity of a cotton buyer, and after the outbreak of the Civil War and closing of the ports by blockade, was employed as the secretary and treasurer of the largest company engaged in the business of blockade-running. If the question is asked: Why, by publishing a detailed description of these horrors, do you revive memories of scenes which we would all gladly forget? - the first answer is, that it is due to the truth of history. The Southern writers who have undertaken to write the history of our Civil conflict have not the ear of the world; the Northern writers of history, not only for general reading, but especially of school-books, are notoriously...
